My Favorite Place

Medieval Times is a fantastic place for several reasons. These are the reasons. You can take pictures, you can buy things, you can eat and you can cheer, and have a great time.

I took a picture with the green knight. He was holding a staff with a pointed axe at the end. There was a cross in the middle of his helmet for vision and to breathe.

I like the green knight he is radical!

Buying stuff from Medieval Times is cool. You can buy swords, daggers, axes, shields. I took my sword that I bought home and painted it green. The sword has a black strap around the handles.

The food from Medieval Times was outstanding. They served you soup, bread, a rib, soft grilled potatoes with B.B.Q. sause, fantastic apple pie. I hated the Dragon Soup because its real name is vegetable soup and I don't like vegetable soup. You can eat while watching the couragios knights fight.

The best part of Medieval Times is when they fight like soldiers of war. If the knight loses the sword they get an axe, if they loose that axe they get a flail. If they lose that they get a whip. There is a big stadium. The stadium is about half the size of a football field. There is a section where the red knight is, the black and white is, the red and black is, the green knight is, the blue and silver knight is. After we get our tickets, we get crowns and whatever color of knight we get that's the color of crown we get. If we get the green knight we will cheer for that knight and sit in that section. After it is over it is about 7:00 p.m. and we go home.

In conclusion, I like this place because you can buy awesome things, and you can eat good food. It is my favorite place because one of my best friends had his birthday party here and he invited me and that is how I discovered Medieval Times.
