

I CAN MAKE A DIFFERENCE

You must've been scared when you were dying,
To know that life was coming to an end.
You were always there for everyone,
You were always everyone's friend.

So it was our turn to be there for you,
While you struggled day to day with the strain.
I hoped I could make a difference
and help take away all your pain.
You always remembered every holiday;
You were everything I wanted to be Kind hearted, and always giving
Never a birthday did you forget me.

I didn't want to lose you,
I prayed with all my heart.
Asked God to keep you a little longer.
I could not imagine us apart.

Did I ever tell you how much you meant to me?
How I wished I could save your life.
If only I could make a difference?
Find a cure to all this strife.

Seeing you lying in the bed
So pale, small hands that could not reach.
Oh, I wished, I could lift you high,
For the world to see what you could teach.

I saw you lonely in that bed
No more laughter, you were too weak.
All I could do now was hold your hand.
How could I help with things so bleak?

Through you life and death,
I can make a difference, I have learned
Just by sitting here with you
Til, angels bring the wings you've earned.
