

WOW

What are you able to discover each day?
Miracles and joy, tragedies and dismay
Life may Keep going, with its struggles right now
But I can see a world of wonder and say wow!

Let all girls go to school, and all people be free
There we will stand, a world for you and for me
Bubbles for bombs, a pencil for a gun
Educate the world and we will know we have won.

Holocausts that blight the sun in the sky
As we turn our heads, how many children die?
And billions of dollars won on Wall Street each day
To keep the rich richer, at what price do they pay?

Earmarked politicians like a scream and shout
And voters like to blame, point fingers, and pout
As Unemployment and homelessness go on the rise
We, your children see our world's demise.

You say Character Counts, Do as I say
$700 billion dollar debt, but who will pay?
Greenhouse emissions, greedy bank transactions - today
Who said you could give our legacy away?

Now seeing what you have done with it, its time to let go.
A world with so much promise, you reap what you sow.
Ancestor's blood and tears from the land of the free
You didn't understand its importance, you did not see.

Yet, as I am young, I see it and see it again
I feel wow with the dream of people created as one.
For as long as I love, wherever I'll be
I will continue to fight for a world to be free.
